

Victoria Town Hall

The future of fish and wildlife: Are we losing what makes BC special?

The BC Wildlife Federation is concerned about the future of fish and wildlife populations, and future generation's ability to hunt, fish, camp, and recreate in British Columbia.

The Town Hall offers an opportunity to discuss the trends, threats to fish, public access to public resources, wildlife populations, and how we can turn things around.

Topics for Discussion

- Declining caribou, elk, moose, and deer populations
- Declining fish populations
- Declining budgets for natural resource conservation
- Lack of science for fish and wildlife management
- How you can drive positive change
